 - All other matters that are not an emergency can be called into the Colony office and a message can be left. It will be returned during normal business hours.
- Residents calling the after-hours number for non-emergencies will trigger a $25 nuisance fee being charged to the owner. New Concepts will supply the owners name for billing. This fee will be charged back by the association to the resident’s account.
- If the resident calls and maintenance is dispatched to the property for any reason, the only automatic fee triggered will be an $85 an hour (1-hour minimum) charge for showing up, and billed to owner. If another contractor such as a plumber or electrician needs to be called, their cost for labor and materials will be added to the above fee. If the emergency is averted, the Colony will be made aware and complete whatever is needed the next business day.
- New Concepts will always strive to do the best in ascertaining whether a maintenance issue is an association or homeowner matter. However, at times, this will be impossible to know until someone is out at the property to review the situation. If the situation is the responsibility of the homeowner, the cost will be billed to the homeowner.
